Prescreen with D-TEC® CB for rapid, accurate canine brucellosis detection

The D-TEC® CB Canine Brucellosis Antibody Test Kit is a Rapid Slide Agglutination Test (RSAT) for presumptively diagnosing infection with Brucella canis.

Brucellosis is a sexually transmitted disease that can remain with dogs throughout their lives. Once infected, dogs should be removed from breeding. Both members of the breeding pair should minimally be tested prior to each breeding or ideally every six months.¹,²

Zoetis Collection and Shipping products—the products you need for trouble-free collections

Zoetis has all of the products you will need for fresh chilled or fresh semen collection such as Disposable Collection Kits, Eau d’Estrus and essential products to aid in collection and shipping.

FRESH EXPRESS® products for professional fresh or chilled semen shipping

FRESH EXPRESS® Extender is used to extend the sperm rich fraction (SRF) of canine semen prior to insemination or chilled transport.

The FRESH EXPRESS® Kit contains material required for one transport of fresh chilled canine semen for insemination.
Zoetis Frozen Semen Storage and Shipping has the proven experience you are looking for when it comes to your canine collections. We have more than 20 years of cryopreservation expertise and have partnered with breeders and veterinarians of more than 4,200 stud dogs. Zoetis handles more than 350 shipments annually to 30 countries worldwide.

You can also rest assured that your collections will be safe long-term. Our state-of-the-art facility features 24/7 monitoring and individual tank auto-fill to maintain nitrogen levels, four levels of security to ensure only authorized personnel gain access to your collections, as well as an industrial-grade liquid nitrogen tank and commercial-grade sprinkler on premises guaranteeing long-term safekeeping of your assets.

Determine the bitch’s cycle with WITNESS® LH and monitor progesterone levels with OVUCHECK® Premate

The WITNESS® LH Test Kit provides an accurate, semi-quantitative measurement of canine luteinizing hormone (LH) through Rapid Immuno Migration (RIM™).

Although originally designed as a canine ovulation timing aid, WITNESS® LH also may be used to distinguish between ovariohysterectomized and sexually intact bitches.

OVUCHECK® Premate detects a rise in progesterone in canine serum or plasma, allowing estimation of the fertile period. Used in conjunction with WITNESS® LH, this helps provide for exceptional timing precision of natural and artificial inseminations.

FRESH EXPRESS® Short-Term Storing
Rapid, accurate pregnancy detection with WITNESS® RELAXIN

WITNESS® RELAXIN is a Rapid Immuno Migration (RIM™) test intended to determine pregnancy in canines, as well as to distinguish between pseudo pregnancy and gestation.

The presence of significant amounts of the hormone relaxin is a reliable indicator of pregnancy. Relaxin can be detected in biological samples as early as 20 days after the luteinizing hormone (LH) surge has occurred.
